Aftermath: The crash in Kingston town centre

Driver hits cyclist and pedestrians in smash

by JON SHARMAN

jon.sharman@london.newsquest.co.uk

A driver whose car mowed down pedestrians and smashed into a bus during Kingston's Monday evening rush hour said he panicked after colliding with a cyclist who shouted at him.

Shibob Li, 49, pictured below, the manager of Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture in Fife Road, said: "It is really regrettable all this happened. I just wish them to get better quickly and wish them the best. I am very, very sorry."

He said he collided with a cyclist who shouted at him.

Mr Li said: "I was panicked and lost control of the car."

Three pedestrians were injured in the crash, including a Syrian refugee and a woman airlifted to the Royal London Hospital with a severe leg fracture.

People are being urged to plan ahead now road and bridge closures for an Olympic legacy cycle race have been announced.

Thousands of professional and amateur cyclists will speed through the borough on Sunday, August 4, as part of Prudential Ride London, the Mayor's cycling festival.

Cyclists are expected to pass through Kingston between 1.30pm and 1.45pm and again between 5.10pm and 5.45pm as they race into central London.

A large number of roads will be closed along the route and river crossings will be shut to traffic from 5am to make way for the 100-mile cycling events.

Most car parks in Kingston town centre will be open.

To prevent delays people are advised to avoid driving, or consider retiming trips, particularly if travelling to or from airports. Bus services will also be affected and Richmond Park will be closed to traffic all day.

Garrett Emmerson, chief operating officer for surface transport at Transport for London, said: "We want all participants, spectators and residents to enjoy the event, but it is important that people become aware of the road closures."

Colour for the country life

by NAZIA DEWJI

ndewji@london.newsquest.co.uk

Flotillas and walking groups took centre stage as the first weekend of the Malden Fortnight kicked off with a colour-fun parade.

Young and old lined the streets to catch a glimpse of the groups making their way down High Street on Saturday afternoon for the country life-themed affair.

But co-event organiser Jenny Stuart said: "The band we had confirmed for our float pulled out on the Wednesday night so on Thursday morning I begged this friend of mine to help.

"We ended up getting this young singer called Georgia and she sang songs from Hana Montana.

"It was fantastic. The atmosphere was great. It was a really good turnout. We had a

Joining in: Fun for all really fun afternoon."

The Market on the Square at St George's Square was also busy on the day with food and other goodies for sale.

Elsewhere heat lovers lounged about in Beverley Park for the fun day where they enjoyed three-legged races, gladiator-style jousting and welly throwing on Sunday.

Andy Murray's historic win at Wimbledon was not shunned as attendees were treated to a screen showing the final.

The fun day raised £6,000 for charity, organisers said.

Still to come for the event in its 28th year this year, is the New Malden craft fair and day of entertainment on Saturday with heritage walks on Sunday.

But the Malden Fortnight culminates the following weekend with a big band night at the New Malden Methodist Church and a sports club open day as well as the eagerly-awaited dog show in Blagdon Park.

Rose to axe post after Unwin leaves

by ROSS LOGAN

ross.logan@london.newsquest.co.uk

The Rose Theatre will not replace artistic director Stephen Unwin when he departs next year.

Rose chief executive Robert O'Dowd said he wanted to bring in a "mixed palette" of different directors instead of employing an individual with an overall artistic vision.

The move would save the theatre "a small amount" of money, but finance was not the driving force behind the decision, he said.

Mr O'Dowd said: "It's really the right time in terms of growth at the Rose.

"We're coming into our sixth year, and I think when we launched with Stephen [as artistic director] it was a good thing to do.

"But the theatre landscape has changed significantly in those years. Stephen felt he had done a good job and that the time was right to move on.

"We don't feel an artistic director is essential to what we're trying to do now.

"We're moving from a

Stepping down: Artistic director Stephen Unwin single artistic director model to a production model.

"There are a number of other theatres that have a similar model and the feedback from the industry has been very positive."

Mr O'Dowd said the theatre was already in discussion with at least six directors or production companies about future shows.

The new model would allow the theatre to bring in "young and exciting" new directors, although he reiterated the theatre's commitment to producing its own plays.

He said: "One of the options I think would be great is for a more mixed palette of directors.

"We still want to be a producing theatre but we want to work with a number of people.

"We'll be bringing in a range of young and exciting directors, and one of the things I'm looking at quite hard is how we put on more drama that we have produced or co-produced. I think it's going to be good news.

"It wasn't done as a cost-saving exercise. There is a small cost saving, but it isn't something we can all retire on."

Mr Unwin has been artistic director at the Rose since it opened in 2008.

He announced he was leaving earlier this year, and will depart in January 2014.

Getting their skates on

High-flyers: Youngsters at the skate park taking part in the day

Skaters rolled into King's Field in Hampton Court Road to kick off the International Youth Arts Festival, ahead of Friday's curtain raiser gala night.

The skate park was filled with boards as crowds gathered to compete in the first event of the festival.

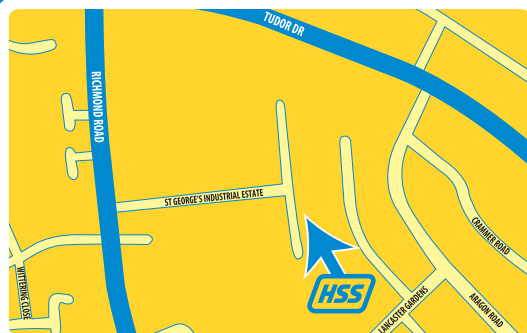

Director Jeremy Sachs said: "They all put energy into mastering what they were doing, scootering, skating or blades.

"It was inspiring to see those guys throwing themselves into it."

Cinema and flats plan for former bingo hall

by ROSS LOGAN

ross.logan@london.newsquest.co.uk

A boutique cinema, penthouse apartments, a restaurant and a heritage centre could all be features of the revamped Gala Bingo hall.

CNM Estates, which owns the vacant Grade II listed building, held a two-day exhibition outlining the company's latest plans for the Richmond Road site.

New drawings showed the proposed revamp to the outside of the building, which includes glass-fronted apartments on the roof, with the word "Regal" emblazoned below – a nod to the building's original guise as the Regal Cinema.

Some of the other proposed uses include a small cinema – similar to the Curzon cinema chain – a high-end restaurant, children's play and education centre and a heritage display area.

Underground car parking would be provided for residents living in the flats above.

CNM Estates, currently based in Coombe Road, would also relocate there.

Residents who attended the exhibition, at Tiffin School in Queen Elizabeth Road, were largely supportive of the proposals.

Plans: A boutique cinema and flats

June Hillier, chairwoman of the Richmond Road Residents' Association and landlord of the Grey Horse pub, said: "I quite liked it."

"The design is quite nice and they've assured us there will be no late-night music venue or nightclub. They need to keep it upmarket and a nice restaurant sounds like a good idea."

"Also the underground car park will be for the residents in the apartment only, which means there won't be a problem with parking in the streets."

CNM Estates director Wahid

Samady said: "CNM Estates have widely consulted with neighbours, residents' associations, potential users and businesses regarding the future of the Kingston Gala building."

"CNM Estates are delighted by the response received and would like to take this opportunity to thank the community, and all that have been involved, in developing the design and concepts for this exciting new scheme."

Pet dog badly hurt in deer attack at park

A cocker spaniel was injured when a deer attacked her in Richmond Park.

Six-year-old Lola suffered a collapsed lung and broken ribs when she was trampled by a deer.

She was rushed to an emergency veterinary practice on June 16.

Her owner Sarah Jowett, from Latchmere Road, said: "We are very lucky. It could have been an unhappy end."

The little dog was left fighting for her breath after Mrs Jowett stumbled upon a lone hind that launched at Lola – apparently unprovoked.

She said she had been walking around one of the ponds and watching the skylarks, when a hind had popped up its head and attacked the dog.

Mrs Jowett said: "The second we saw it we knew to get away, and we turned around but it charged after us. It reared up and jumped on her with its rear legs. She started screaming."

by HANA HAUSMEISTER

hana.hausmeister@london.newsquest.co.uk

"Because the lung had been punctured, air had gotten between the lung and her skin, and it was like bubble wrap."

Roger Bralow, head vet at Stone Lion Veterinary Practice in Wimbledon, said: "Most of the parks put up warnings that there are deer going through rutting season, but this one was a bit worrying because it was an unprovoked attack."

The vets gave her oxygen and morphine and kept her at the practice for a week.

Mr Bralow has urged dog walkers to be vigilant and stay well away from the deer.

Mrs Jowett said: "I do not know how other people can avoid it."

"When you see people going up to them with children and trying to feed them, you think 'oh my God'."

"I think there have been quite a few accidents lately, they seem to be getting more aggressive, probably because of all the people."

Lola has had her bandages removed and is now on the mend.

Mrs Jowett said they plan to keep visiting the park once Lola has completely healed.

Rush hour crash

Panic: The car came to rest on top of a wall. The bus it crashed into was removed. Below, members of the public are delayed by the incident

A driver whose car mowed down pedestrians and smashed into a bus during Kingston's rush hour said he panicked after colliding with a cyclist who shouted at him.

A woman, who sustained non-life-threatening leg fractures, was airlifted to the Royal London Hospital from Cromwell Road after the crash outside Kingston station at about 6pm on Monday.

She is understood to be in a stable condition.

The cyclist and a second pedestrian, a Syrian refugee who fled to Britain from Damascus, were not seriously injured.

Shibob Li, 49, the manager of Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture in Fife Road, was on his way home when his BMW careered out of Fife Road the wrong way into Clarence Street.

He said he tried to avoid the bike but pressed the accelerator pedal in a panic and lost control. When he hit the bus and came to a stop he said he was "blank".

And immediately after the crash he was in no mood to go to hospital, he said. Instead he returned to his shop to sit down and calm down.

He said he attempted to visit the victims in hospital on Tuesday morning but was unable to make contact.

He said: "It happened really quickly and I didn't have any time to think about it. I was shocked and shaking."

Mr Li added: "But it is not just my fault. He started shouting and caused my panic."

"There are too many bicycle people on the road. They do not really watch the other people. Sometimes they just come quickly."

The BMW only stopped when, after mounting the wall of the island in front of the station, it hit a 111 bus turning to travel along Wood Street, triggering the driver-side airbag.

The bus driver was not hurt.

A relative of the Syrian man said: "He never got injured in Beirut but managed to get injured in Kingston."

"He hit his head and the car hit him in both legs and his back."

Witness Billy Cole, 19, said: "I was holding her neck [the injured woman] for about 45 minutes. Her leg is smashed in some places."

The road between Kingston station and the Cappadocia restaurant was taped off and closed while an investigator surveyed and photographed the wreckage.

The bus was driven away at about 10pm.

Boy, 16, stable after being stabbed in park not covered by CCTV

A teenager is in a stable condition in hospital after being stabbed in a park last week.

The 16-year old was found slumped against the wall of KFC in New Malden High Street on July 3, after being attacked in nearby Blagdon Road.

The Southborough School student, who is waiting on the results of his GCSE exams, was still recovering in hospital as this newspaper went to press.

Two teenage boys, aged 16 and 17, were arrested on suspicion of grievous bodily harm and were bailed until August.

Headteacher Niall Smith

sent a message of support to the student.

Mr Smith said: "The whole school community were shocked and saddened by what happened."

"We wish him all the best for a speedy recovery."

Friends took to Twitter to also express relief and encouragement.

One friend tweeted: "Thank God its not life threatening."

Another said: "Inshallah my brother is gonna be alright."

Residents living near to the park called for its closure in the wake of the stabbing, the latest in a series of violent or antisocial incidents in recent years.

In April 2009, a 16-year-old boy was left fighting for his life after being assaulted by a gang of teenagers in Blagdon Park.

Two months later, a 30-year-old dog walker was left with lacerations to his face after being punched and kicked by a gang.

An experimental project to train cameras from the top of Blagdon Road car park on to a specific bench next to the park was unsuccessful.

Marion Todd, Safer Kingston partnership manager, said there was currently no CCTV in Blagdon Park but it could be considered in the future.

63-year-old man denies 19 counts of child sex assault

A Worcester Park man has been accused of sexually assaulting children as young as six.

Michael Hopkins, 63, of Church Road, denied 19 counts of sexual and indecent assault against children, at his Kingston Crown Court trial which continues this week.

The Kingston Guardian cannot reveal where the alleged incidents are said to have taken place.

The offences were allegedly carried out on five children, between six and 12 years old,

by NAZIA DEWJI

ndewji@london.newsquest.co.uk

between 2001 and 2010.

Prosecutor Simon Connolly said: "The issues in a way are quite simple – did it happen or not? That is what you will need to decide.

"The defendant and his wife are alleged to have been heavy drinkers.

"The suggestion is that once the defendant has had a few too many, his behaviour becomes flirtatious.

"Drink seems to have been a feature of the behaviour that is what allowed this to happen."

The court heard claims Mr Hopkins and his wife would drink heavily every evening.

The allegations were initially made by one woman in 2010 and she was video interviewed, which jurors were told they would see during the trial.

The case was not taken any further until others came forward and the original woman was interviewed again in 2012.

Mr Connolly said: "He had a habit of pinching the children in the thigh area.

"He seems to have done that to all the children."

He likened the behaviour to that of "grooming" and said it was: "Getting the children used to being touched so that it could go further."

The mother of one complainant, who will give evidence later in the trial, will allege Mr Hopkins told her that he wanted to make love to her.

The trial continues.

Artists hold Court

Art: Fran O'Brien with organiser Aine Lark

KT77519

Fircroft Trust art enthusiasts are the first to display their work at an unlikely new venue.

The Cafe at Court Farm Garden Centre, Tolworth, has become an art gallery since its renovation earlier this year.

Fran O'Brien, who donated some of her work to the trust, said: "The cafe is a fantastic venue. It had never had an art exhibition but [they] wanted to try."

The exhibition, which started on July 1 and runs for two months, will feature Fircroft Trust artists' work and work by Ms O'Brien.

Report due Nave closes for church's refurb

Kingston Council is bracing itself for another critical Ofsted report on its children's services.

Inspectors arrived unannounced on June 3, to see how the council was progressing after last year's visit, when its child protection services were rated inadequate.

Sources said the latest report was also likely to be critical.

The Ofsted report will be published on July 12.

The second phase of a redevelopment project at a historic Kingston church is under way.

The nave of All Saints Church, in Market Place, has now been closed while work to refurbish the main part of the building is carried out.

The church organ has been dismantled and taken away to be cleaned and serviced, while the 1970s concrete floor is being ripped up and replaced with handmade terracotta tiles.

The project has been able to move forward thanks to a grant of £967,001 from Viridor Credits Environmental Company.

All Saints' vicar, the Rev Jonathan Wilkes, said: "We hope to be able to complete this phase of the work in late November or early December, so that we will be able to celebrate Christmas in the restored nave while the East End is closed off to complete the job.

"However, the organ will only be returned to the nave once all the work on the church is finished – there is little point in cleaning an organ and replacing it while building works are still under way."

Time to stand up for our valuable health services

I am writing this in light of the recent Health and Social Care Act with special reference to section 75, which compels every newly-formed clinical commissioning group (CCG), including our own in Kingston, to either put health services out to tender or open them up to any qualified provider (AQP).

The only criteria for being an AQP is that your organisation is financially solvent and does not relate to quality or efficiency of service – think Serco, Virgin, Group4, etc.

I would like to ask readers what they would prefer to happen to the national health service.

Option 1: NHS funded from public taxation. And before anyone starts marginalising the “shirkers”, “the immigrants”, “the disabled”, “the pensioners” or any other good to kick or blame group, remember anyone who has ever purchased anything other than food, (not the cafe or restaurant variety) pays VAT.

Those who smoke, drink alcohol or put petrol in their cars pay a lot of public tax as do all of us who heat our homes.

Option 2: NHS transits to a service partially provided by private organisations and continues to be funded from public taxation. A few organisations make a financial killing for a while until the transition is complete. (This will take time and will obviously be felt most by your children and grandchildren.)

Eventually we have a health service funded by insurance and ability to pay and a return to the “hospitals for the poor”, effectively returning our health service to a pre-war situation.

July 5 was the 65th anniversary of the NHS.

Bevan will probably spin in his grave. It is time for the residents of Kingston to start asking their MP to take the message back to Parliament that we do not want any more lies. It is time for the residents of Kingston to start asking the health and wellbeing board, the health overview panel and the CCG to tell the truth and shame the devil.

It is time for Kingston residents to stand up and take responsibility over what they want for health services in the borough.

Hurting the least well-off

How wonderful it is to see the top brass at Transport for London have been paid £2.5m for their part in staging the Olympics.

Meanwhile, the rest of us continue to suffer under the cuts being made by both central and local government.

At the same time, Kingston Council has recruited more highly-paid council officials.

These appointments have been made when the rest of us are being told by Kingston Council it is suffering from a severe shortage of funds.

To satisfy this shortage it is making cuts that are hurting people, the very people who are funding these salaries.

Kingston's council tax is one of the highest in the country so perhaps somebody could tell me how other councils manage to conduct their business for less?

Another money spinning exercise being carried out by Kingston Council is raising revenue out of parking fines.

One only has to visit Guildhall to see how much importance is placed on this money-raising exercise as a lot of floor space has been devoted to an office where you can pay your parking fine.

We all know parking needs to be controlled, and enforcement is a necessary evil, but some of the stories I have heard recently about parking tickets are beyond belief.

Why is it, at a time residents and businesses are suffering such hardships, Kingston Council continues to up its game on collecting as much revenue as possible from people who can least afford it?

No excuse to not scoop

I regularly walk on the King Edwards recreational ground, Hook Road, Chessington, and have noticed in recent weeks a lot of dog mess left behind.

Most dog owners I encounter are very responsible and clean up after their pet. So, this letter is directed to the person who is not scooping up. There is no excuse for not cleaning up after your dog. The grounds are used by several groups to hold their summer fair.

Your irresponsible behaviour affects our community – especially young children.

If you can not clean up after your pet – do not have one.

Normal courses continue

As student governor of the North Kingston Centre I would like to reassure students and future students that, despite the huge uncertainty there has been, the prospectus for 2013-14 is now available, showing that all courses will continue as normal for all of the academic year of September 2013-14, ensuring a full further normal year at the North Kingston Centre.

Vegetation destruction

With reference to Frank Middleton's letter about the destruction of vegetation in Lower Marsh Lane, the council has a history of such vandalism (Pointless tree destruction, June 20).

Last year, at the height of summer, all the trees in Selwyn Road, New Malden, were stripped of their entire foliage, which destroyed the habitats of many birds and insects.

Such action is against the 1981 Wildlife and Countryside Act and the council is therefore open to prosecution.

Gas site availability good news for Futures plans

The gas works near Kingston Sainsbury's are nearer being demolished.

Southern Gas Networks' (SGN) says it no longer needs to hold more than 100 tonnes of natural gas at the gasholder site in Sury Basin, Richmond Road.

SGN told Kingston Council the site has been decommissioned and has no further use for the land. It has requested its hazardous substance consent be revoked.

The gasholders are a key area of the council's Kingston Futures programme, a schedule of major redevelopment

by ROSS LOGAN

ross.logan@london.newsquest.co.uk

that include revamping the ancient market and Eden Walk shopping centre.

The revocation of SGN's consent would make the gasholders site available for private development.

Councillors on the Kingston Town neighbourhood committee agreed last week to revoke SGN's consent, although the decision still needs to be ratified by the Government before redevelopment.

One party that will welcome the news is Kingston College.

The college was awarded a grant to build a creative industries centre on a site backing on to the gas holders.

But that funding was jeopardised after the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) submitted an objection to the college's proposal based on the proximity of the gasholders.

By agreeing to revoke the consent, the council has satisfied the HSE's concerns - improving the chances of the college's application being approved at a development control meeting later this month.

No fear as deer veers too close for comfort

Frankly, my deer: The couple near the stag in Richmond Park

A couple were photographed smooching just yards from a "dangerous" deer in Richmond Park.

A Petersham dog walker, who did not want to be named, took this picture on her iPhone of the pair locking lips while walking near Ham Gate in the Royal Park on Monday, July 1.

The dog walker was about 30ft from the couple, in their early 20s, who were having a picnic just an arm's length from a stag.

She said: "When I walked past the first time I couldn't believe it. They were just sitting there having a picnic with this deer there."

"They are not tame animals, they are wild animals and there are signs up in the park."

When she returned after walking her dog round the park the loved-up couple were still in the same spot.

She said: "Wild animals are unpredictable and if it had decided to go for them they would have been in a lot of trouble."

She warned the couple of the dangers of getting too close to the deer but they said they were not touching it and did not think it was a problem.

The Royal Parks issues advice to dog walkers and park users during the birthing season, which runs from May to July.

They warn people to steer clear of the animals during this time and advise dog walkers to keep to the perimeter of the parks.

Road deaths lowest for three years

The number of people killed or injured in road accidents in Kingston is at its lowest in three years.

Provisional UK road casualty figures in 2012 have been released by the Department for Transport, showing the number of accidents on British roads has fallen to its lowest level since records began.

One person died in Kingston as the result of a crash last year, while 33 people were seriously injured and 388 people slightly injured in the same period.

That is 21 fewer overall accidents than in 2011, when two people died and 42 were seriously injured, and five fewer casualties than in 2010, when there were 427 in total.

Nationally, the number of casualties in Great Britain fell by 8 per cent compared to 2011, to 1,754 from 1,901.

But the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents expressed concern over the number of cyclists being killed, with the number of child fatalities more than doubling, from six in 2011 to 13 in 2012.

STOP THE PRESS

A satirical musical based on the Leveson Inquiry into press ethics will be premiering at the IYAF festival this year, writes Nazia Dewji.

Former Kingston University students Fiona O'Malley and Adam Wollerton have teamed up to showcase The Daily Fail: The Musical!

The show is based on the life of two girls, London and Dim, who are desperate to become famous at any cost but the problem they face is, well, they do not actually have any talent.

But the stardom seeking duo soon find themselves in hell when their dream becomes reality following an encounter with a fairy godmother named Rupert Murdoch.

It is then that the fame-hungry girls realise they cannot handle the pressures of fame or the press. O'Malley says: "It's all about press ethics and the extremes people go to."

"I was studying for my masters in journalism at Kingston University last year and reading a lot and thinking this must be wrong – journalists don't do that, do their editors know? Obviously everyone is not like that?"

"By the second act of the play the main characters get their phones hacked. But this story is not all about hacking – it has press ethics and it is a comedy."

Chloe Parsons, who plays snob Nicole Bitchy, says the play is something that has never been done before.

Parsons says: "It's got phone hacking, sexual connotations and references, it's humorous and it's a musical. It has not been done before."

"I have loved rehearsing – it has been a challenge but so much fun. I had never danced before in my life."

In the play Parsons says she plays an "airhead" and "snob" who thinks she knows "everything about the famous world".

Keeping in line with the theme of the play songs that audiences will be entertained with include Hugh Grant Is My Ideal Man, Making a Sex Tape and We Could Be Famous.

It's got phone hacking, sexual connotations, it's humorous and it's a musical. It has not been done before

Movie MAGIC

Kids and grown-ups love the boy wizard, so if you're at a loss for what to do over the school holidays, why not take a family trip to the Warner Bros Studio Tour London – The Making of Harry Potter?, writes Khaleda Rahman.

Located in Leavesden, near Watford, hundreds of crew members were involved in turning the studios into the home of Harry Potter for more than a decade of production.

This unique walking tour is the ultimate treat for fans to take a behind-the-scenes journey into the making of the most successful film franchise of all time.

Visitors can take a stroll down Diagon Alley, admire the Ministry of Magic, explore Dumbledore's office and take a peek into 4 Privet Drive to name but a few of the sets on show.

The highlight of the tour is one of Hogwarts' most memorable locations – the breathtaking Great Hall, a setting for many a lavish feast and don't miss the art department's crowning jewel – an intricate scale model of Hogwarts castle.

Footage of the meticulous model was combined with digital effects to create the realistic views seen in the films.

Sarah Roots, vice-president of the studios, says: "What makes this tour so special is that everything on show has been used in the making of the Harry Potter film series."

"All the sets, props and costumes are authentic and show the incredible detail and craftsmanship that goes into film production.

"All the films were shot in Leavesden so it is wonderful to have given the sets a permanent home here."

From July 26 until September, the studios will host their first Summer Spelltacular – a chance for visitors to delve into the world of spell casting and wizard duels.

See how spells came to life on screen, take part in a special effects demo in Diagon Alley, or learn wand battle choreography from Wand Combat expert Paul Harris.

There are fast trains from Euston to Watford Junction with shuttle buses available for ticket holders to and from Watford Junction.

● The Making of Harry Potter; Warner Bros Studio tour; Leavesden; July 26 to September; £29 adults, £21.59 children, £85 for a family of four; tickets must be booked in advance by selecting tour times; visit wbstudio.tour.co.uk.

CONSTELLA ORCHESTRA

An orchestra and ballet dance collaboration will wow audiences next week as a newly choreographed performance of Stravinsky's The Soldier's Tale is performed in Kingston, writes Nazia Dewji.

The play, put on by the Constella Orchestra, tells the story of a soldier who trades his violin to the devil in exchange for a mysterious book.

As the tale unfolds, the soldier and devil devise mischievous schemes to outwit one another.

The show is one of the few classical performances – and one of the only multi-media projects – taking part in this year's International Youth Arts Festival.

The Constella Orchestra's take on the play is a small-scale production with just three dancers, Sophie Apollonia, Joanna Thwaite and Pierre Doncq and three narrators Jason Brown, Saul Boyer and Rachel Maby, although there are also eight musicians in the mix.

The group believe this first collaboration between the orchestra and the world of ballet is a mere taste of things to come before their large scale performances of Stravinsky's classics at London's Bloomsbury Theatre in 2014.

● The Soldier's Tale; Rose Theatre, 24-26 High Street, Kingston; Monday, July 15; 1pm; £5-£15; call the box office on 08444 621 556 or visit rosetheatrekingston.org for more information.

THORPE PARK

The summer months are here and with it the holidays, so what better time to venture outside of London to find some good activities, writes Andy Bloss.

We all know within the M25 there are plenty of things to do but there are a whole host of different places to visit outside of the capital, usually only a short train ride or drive away.

With the summer holidays approaching Vibe has come up with a few ideas of places that should appeal to all the family.

● Historic family home, Penshurst Place and Gardens in Tonbridge, complete with maze, was built in the 14th century and has more than 40 acres of land.

Over the summer it is putting on a series of events to suit all ages, including medieval-themed Sundays and a Knight's school for children.

Visit penshurstplace.com or call 1892 870307 for more information.

● If you are someone who fancies a flutter, then perhaps a day or evening at the races might be your cup of tea.

Lingfield Racecourse, based in the peaceful Surrey countryside, has a number of events taking place over the summer.

Its next big highlight is ladies' evening on July 20, which is an evening of racing followed by live entertainment on the outdoor stage.

Visit lingfieldpark.co.uk or call 01342 834800

● Pod London in Whyteleafe is the largest zorbing park in the country.

Zorbing involves getting into a giant transparent plastic sphere and rolling down a hill.

Call 0845 430322 or visit zorbing.co.uk.

● Vibe also recommends a trip to Brighton, where festivals are taking place throughout July and August, including the Kite Festival and Soundwaves music festival, and also to the ever-popular Thorpe Park.

For more details on all these destinations visit kingstonguardian.co.uk/vibe.

LINGFIELD

A new dawn

LA PETITE FAMILLE

A tightly-knit group of young actors will bring an original musical tale to the Rose Theatre as part of the International Youth Arts Festival (IYAF).

Tomorrow's Dawn – in French, Demain l'Aurore – is an optimistic look at teenagers' hopes and dreams, which explores how young people and adults interact in today's society.

The La Petite Famille theatre company was formed by middle school pupils from the south of France, and has toured seven countries since 2007.

The company's newest challenge is to perform the play in English in this, its first UK run.

A young couple must negotiate the pitfalls of teenage life and love – parents, teachers and more.

Writer Jeff Gallon says: "They do not succeed in re-creating their love because they have too many questions, too many fears, and the play is about that."

"It started in middle school. I am a teacher and I met a music teacher – we had the idea to create a musical."

"We wanted to talk about teenage questions. The group started to perform and nobody wanted to stop."

And what is his favourite part of the play? He says: "It is difficult to answer, but we tried to create a varied play with funny things, and at other times, more poignant and moving parts."

He adds that bringing the show to the UK has its own difficulties: "We are very excited and a little afraid, of course, because it will be the first time for us performing in English."

"It is really a challenge for us – we are practising a lot. "It is a great opportunity for us and we are really happy to take part in the festival."

● Tomorrow's Dawn; Rose Theatre, 24-26 High Street, Kingston; Sunday, July 21 to Tuesday, July 23, various times; £5-£8; visit rosetheatrekingston.org or call 08444 821556.

Splashing fun for all

Finding activities that everyone can enjoy over the summer holidays can be a challenge! With its Olympic sized ice rink, 32 lane ten pin bowl, four pools including a leisure pool, a soft play area, gym, sports arena and aerobics studio all under one roof, Guildford Spectrum, managed by Freedom Leisure, offers the perfect solution.

Its great value Family Fun ticket and free parking means it's affordable too. For just £39 a family of four can choose two of the different activities on offer – choosing from swimming, skating and bowling. Alternatively make a day of it and do all three activities for £59 per family.

Adult and junior individual tickets are also available. If all that activity makes you hungry enjoy one of the four family friendly catering outlets on site.

Guildford Spectrum is also a great place to visit during term-time. Its Toddler Splash sessions take place in the Leisure Pool on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. These friendly, safe sessions are perfect for under fives who need to build confidence in water.

Guildford Spectrum's soft play, Specky's Pirate Ship, is also very popular. Its four floors provide a challenging and fun-filled environment for under 10s. Specky's is designed and built to the highest safety standards with padding in all areas – so children really can go wild! Features include a box maze, ball ponds, pirate bash bags, a tube slide, cargo net, sky glide and trampoline.

Londoners predict house prices will continue to rise

A new YouGov poll reveals an overwhelming majority of Londoners believe that house prices in the capital will continue to rise, both in the short and long term.

More than three-quarters

(77 per cent) of people living in London say the average house price will rise over the next 12 months, and an even greater proportion of Londoners (83 per cent) think house prices will go up over the next five years. Asked what they think will happen to the average house price in their local area, and 74 per cent of Londoners predict it will go up over the next 12 months, while 80 per cent foresee house prices rising in their area over the next five years.

Commenting on the poll results, YouGov director of political and social research Joe Twyman said: "It doesn't matter if you're talking about the next year or the next five years, overwhelmingly Londoners believe that house prices will continue to rise in the capital, and that their own house will also increase in value."

"If house prices are a bubble, a lot of people are going to be caught by surprise when it bursts."

Of those surveyed, 44 per cent put the borough of Kensington and Chelsea in their top three, despite the fact that it is already the most expensive borough, with an average house price of nearly £1.5m according to recent figures.

Next in line was Westminster, picked by 35 per cent, which, in fact, also saw the greatest rise in average house price last year – an increase of 35.6 per cent over 12 months.

Chosen by 29 per cent, The City of London followed close behind, with Richmond upon Thames (selected by 20 per cent), Hammersmith and Fulham (by 10 per cent) and Kingston upon Thames (also by 10 per cent) rounding out the picks in double-digits.

Londoners were also asked whether the Mayor of London should be given complete control over London property taxes, including council tax, stamp duty and business rates. Half opposed this measure and only a third (32 per cent) supported it.

Landlords still see buy to let as giving a good return for money

A new report shows that buy to let is still seen as a sound investment.

Landlord investment in residential property has increased significantly over the past three months, despite slight easing of tenant demand, according to research from the Association of Residential Letting Agents (ARLA).

The proportion of ARLA members who think landlords are currently increasing their net investment in the private rental sector by buying properties has risen sharply – from 30 per cent to 39 per cent – over the last three months, indicating that rental property is still perceived as a safe investment – despite the economic climate.

Susan Fitz-Gibbon, director of letting agents Fitz-Gibbon and president of ARLA, said: "Our research shows that rental properties are still seen as a good investment option, despite the challenging economic climate. The overall trend is still a continued appetite for rental homes.

"We would urge anyone planning to let out additional properties, or landlords looking at changing their portfolio, to do plenty of research and consult with experts.

Using an ARLA agent will mean you have access to Client Money Protection and a redress scheme."

Christ Church Summer Fair

H&H Residential are making their mark in the Surbiton area. Sponsoring Christ church Primary Schools Summer fair they donned Micky and Minnie Mouse Costumes and attracted both parents and children alike, giving out freebies to promote their growing brand in the area.

H&H Residential have been in Tolworth for the last 4 years and in that time their brand has grown from strength to strength. Specialising in residential Sales and Lettings, supported by the recent opening of their Berrylands office, on Chiltern Drive, distinguishing them from their competitors by being the only Estate agent in the Heart of Berrylands – Heralding them the agent of choice.

They offer a wealth of experience in the property market and offer bespoke packages and market leading products and fees for both sales and lettings.

The day proved to be very successful as in previous years and as well as the freebies being given out a raffle was held which was received very well with the first prize, a tablet computer being won by Sally Hasley, said Glen Jingree, Operations Director.

He said by the end of the fair Micky and Minnie were ready to put their feet up, however as they were neighbouring the Bar b que, he was sure that Micky made sure he had his fair share of burgers and hotdogs!!

Conditions of acceptance of advertisements

General

1. The following conditions apply to the placing of an order for insertion of advertisements in Newsquest Media Group ("Newsquest") printed or electronic publications. Each order will form a separate agreement and English law will apply. Any change to these conditions must be agreed by us in writing (which means by exchange of letter, fax or email). An "advertiser" means any person or organisation placing an advertisement on their own account or on behalf of another.

Contents

2. The advertiser confirms that the advertisement complies with all applicable legislation, regulations and codes of practice, including the codes supervised by the Advertising Standards Authority. We may reject or require changes to any advertisement so as to comply with legal or moral obligations placed on us or the advertiser; to avoid infringing the rights of a third party or any relevant code of practice; or to meet our published production and quality specifications.

3. The advertiser further confirms that:

- i) the publication of the advertisement will not breach any contract, infringe the copyright, trademark or other right of any third party and is not libelous of any person;
- ii) all licences and consents from third parties necessary for the publication of the advertisement have been obtained and paid for, including consent from living persons identified in copy or pictures (photographic or otherwise);
- iii) in respect of an investment advertisement, the contents have been approved by, or the advertiser is, and authorised person within the meaning of the Financial Services Act 1986 as amended or the advertisement is otherwise permitted under that Act.

Payment

4. All advertisements must be paid for in full at the time of booking unless credit has been agreed. The price shall be the amount fixed by our published rate card on the date of acceptance of the order plus VAT where applicable. For non-credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of an advertisement that has not been paid for on time. For credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of any future advertisements if payment is not made in accordance with our payment terms. For credit advertisers, interest will be charged on late payments at the rate of 3% above the Bank of England's base lending rate from the date payment is due together with the administration costs of collecting an overdue debt.

5. By placing an order with us, an advertising agency confirms that it contracts as principal with full authority from its client in all matters connected with the order and is responsible for all payments due. We will only accept advertisements from advertising agencies if they are recognised by us.

6. We will try to give notice of increases, but we reserve the right to change our advertising rates at any time. This will not affect contracts, including any fixed term agreement for a series of advertisements.

Box numbers

7. We will use reasonable efforts to forward replies to box numbers within a reasonable time, but we are not responsible for any failure or delay caused by circumstances beyond our reasonable control, or for any losses relating to an advertiser's business or any loss that is not reasonably foreseeable by both parties.

Cancellation

8. We will notify the advertiser of the latest time that orders can be cancelled (the "booking" deadline) and the latest time that advertising copy can be received by us ("the copy deadline"). An advertiser may cancel up until copy deadline and we will make reasonable efforts to re-sell the space, but the advertiser will be liable for the full price if the space is not sold and we will reclaim any unearned volume-based discount. Private advertisers booking by telephone or online may cancel in accordance with relevant law, but no refund shall be available after the copy deadline unless cancellation is due to our negligence. If the copy is not received by the copy deadline, we will not be liable if the advertisement does not appear, but the advertiser will remain liable to make full payment for the price of the advertisement.

9. We will try to satisfy an advertiser's request regarding the positioning of an advertisement, but no guarantee of position can be given unless agreed by us and paid for at the rate then current.

Errors

10. We are not liable for any error, misprint or non-appearance of an advertisement unless caused by our negligence, in which case the advertiser will be entitled to a re-insertion or proportionate refund. The advertiser is solely responsible for checking the advertisement on each insertion and ordering correction where necessary. Except where we have been negligent, we shall not be liable for an error or misprint that, in our reasonable opinion, does not materially detract from the advertisement. We shall not be liable in any case for losses relating to any business or public fund-raising for the advertiser, such as lost customers, revenue or profit.

Copyright

11. Advertisements are accepted on condition that we have the right to publish them online as well as in any booked titles. The copyright in work or material we contribute to or re-work for an advertisement belongs to us. We will dispose of advertiser's copy, artwork, photographs or other materials after six months unless collected.

General

12. We shall not be liable if our publishing activities are restricted or prevented by any law, act or event beyond our reasonable control (including, for example, industrial dispute). In such case, the advertiser shall accept publication when available or otherwise may cancel the order by written notice and pay only for work done and materials used.

13. We will use the advertiser's details for internal administration. Unless the advertiser tells us not to in writing at any time, we may also share details with other Newsquest companies or with carefully selected third parties, who may send information about goods and services.

14. The advertiser will be liable to pay us for all costs, losses, expenses and damages of any kind suffered or incurred by us as a result of legal claims or actions, actual or threatened, arising from the advertiser's breach of these conditions or the publications of the advertisement, unless caused by our own negligent act or failure.

15. We may cancel the order at any time if the advertiser breaches these conditions and the breach is not capable of remedy or it continues for seven days after we have given written notice of it, or if we reasonably believe the advertiser is unable to pay debts or the advertiser goes or threatens to go out of business.

Method of payment

We will be pleased to accept your payment by any of the following methods:

- CHEQUE - Made payable to NEWSQUEST (LONDON) LTD.
- BACS - Electronic Bank Transfer • CASH - Paid to one of our Branch Offices.
- CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - Please phone to pay by Visa/Mastercard/Switch/Delta

Abbott signs up to assist Dowson

Gary Abbott has been announced as the new assistant manager at Kingstonian after the departure of Hams last month.

Boss Alan Dowson said: "It was important after Hamsey's departure that myself and Martin [Tyler] could add somebody of Gary's calibre to the management team.

"Most non-league fans will know of Gary, and he brings a massive wealth of experience and knowledge about the game."

Meanwhile, Matt Pattison, pictured, and Andre McCollin have agreed deals at Kingstonian.

Harris is up for action

Corinthian Casuals boss Kim Harris, pictured, is feeling the excitement of the approaching season.

The Casuals kick off their pre-season campaign this weekend with a trip to Chessington & Hook, before the Corinthian Casuals tournament on July 20 and 21, where Kingstonian, Dulwich Hamlet and Carshalton Athletic descend on King George's Field for a four-team, two-day showdown.

Harris said: "The only player we have lost is Bashiru Alimi to Kingstonian, and we have been lucky with the quality of the trialists."

"We're looking forward to the new season, I think it will be a good one."

The Corinthian Casuals tournament starts with the hosts against Ks (11am), and Dulwich v Carshalton at 3pm.

The following day, the two losing sides face off, and then the two winners go head to head.

Casuals also host Dorking (July 23) and Met Police (Aug 1).

Carberry effect is good and bad for Wanderers

by TIM ASHTON

tim.ashton@london.newsquest.co.uk

Malden Wanderers CC skipper Simon Crampton and his charges came up against the brick wall that is former England international Michael Carberry, but they are not bitter.

The Hampshire T20 specialist turned out for Spencer on Saturday and promptly took 5-43 in skittling Wanderers for 246.

He then hit 124 off 108 balls to seal only Spencer's third win in eight games.

Wanderers have dropped to seventh in the Premier Division table, and they go to top of the table Sunbury this weekend.

Crampton, the bowler who finally accounted for Carberry's knock, said: "It is one of those things. It probably had a big effect on the final result, but at the same time the boys see it as a challenge."

"Coming up against an England international and first class player is an opportunity that does not come round very often, and the boys like to test themselves against them."

He added: "There is pressure on the professionals as well. They are coming in with a reputation to uphold and they don't want to be found wanting."

Despite coming up against the man with more than 9,500 first class runs to his name and a T20 strike rate of 113, Crampton felt a better start could have made a difference. "We got off to a slow start and if we'd added another 40 or 50 runs, that could have changed it," he said.

"Would they have chased it down? Possibly, but it would have made it interesting."

He added: "We're now in a mini league within the league. There is not much between us and those around us. We just need to concentrate on ourselves and be prepared for the next match."

In Division Two, Worcester Park hopped above Walton on Thames after claiming a winning draw on Saturday.

Having elected to bowl, Walton's Mark Bainbridge took 4-49 as Worcester Park declared on 215 off 53 overs – Sandeep Ganguly's knock of 80 the stand out show with the bat.

With the bat, Walton never got going and only four batsmen reached double figures – Scott Payton took 3-24 – in holding out for 146-9 off 47 overs at stumps.

Park host Chessington this weekend.

Kingstonian were shown no mercy by Division Four leaders Egham, going down by six wickets on the road.

They host Old Hamptonians on Saturday.

Professional: Michael Carberry, above, on his way to 124 for Spencer against Malden Wanderers, and, below, Worcester Park's Scott Kent survives a close call at Walton on Thames

Cougar wants more success

The most valuable player of Kingston University's basketball team has his eyes set on next season, after being promoted to South Eastern Division 1A, to win the Varsity 2013 silverware and reach the South Eastern Conference Cup final, writes Konstantinos Lianos.

Jamie Sercombe, pictured, a 20-year-old business management student from Gibraltar, is determined to succeed in 2014 with his Cougar teammates.

"I want to win everything next year," said the shooting guard.

"I don't want to be in Division One or Two. I want to be in the Premier League."

"I want to do it and we have to do it. I just want to see the team win."

Sercombe, who also plays for the Gibraltar national team, took the university basketball scene by storm in his first season with the Cougars, winning man of the match accolades after his 30 points in an 89-71 win against Reading and 39 points in a 68-42 win over Roehampton.

However, Alexandros Geromoschos, Cougars' co-captain, said the team is not all about one man.

"I think that basing the whole team's game just on one player's performance is risky," he said.

"But Jamie has an understanding, appreciation and love for the game like only a few players I have met here."

"I think he could inspire his younger teammates and he could be a leader."

'FOOT SOLUTIONS GOT ME BACK ON MY FEET'

As a Consultant Maxillofacial Prosthetist and professor at Guy's Hospital Medical School, Mr Colin Haylock MBE travels the world using his specialist life-changing skills to help rebuild people's faces.

However, following a motorcycle accident which left his left foot badly deformed, Colin's mobility was significantly restricted.

"I was really struggling," explains Colin. "Following the accident, my movement became painful and awkward and I had to drag my left foot sideways. The problem was accentuated during my travels when I was on my feet a lot of the time."

At first, Colin sought help from the usual channels, visiting casualty, a physiotherapist and even an orthoptist who prescribed rigid (and uncomfortable) half-sole inserts.

Unfortunately, nothing worked. Then Colin decided to visit Foot Solutions in Richmond.

"I'd been aware of the Foot Solutions free foot assessment offer for some time," adds Colin "then one Sunday morning I called in to the store. I'm so glad I did because that visit changed my life for the better."

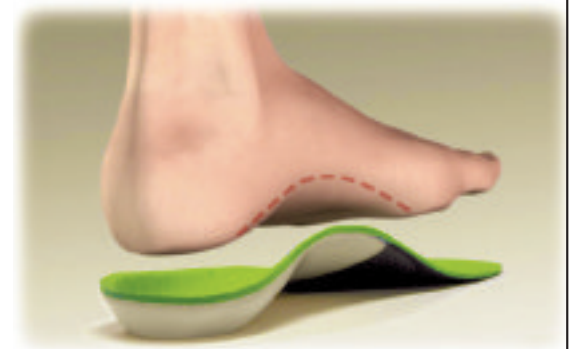

Colin was seen by Foot Solutions consultant Asif, who after taking a full case history, performed a series of tests and scans which identified in addition to the injury, a fallen arch which was exacerbating the problem.

"Asif was extremely patient and thorough," continues Colin, "he recommended custom-made arch supports and advised on suitable footwear, but applied no sales pressure."

Colin accepted Asif's recommendations and followed his detailed instructions on how to use the arch supports.

"I can now walk normally with virtually no discomfort," says a delighted Colin, "Foot Solutions is a very good product and I am happy to endorse it."
